

KIWANIANS TO ATTEND DISTRICT CONFERENCE IN BOSTON ON FRIDAY

Several members of the Arlington Kiwanis club are making plans to attend the District Conference and luncheon at the Boston City club next Friday.

The officers of the local club are eager to have as many Arlington members attend one of the conferences as possible. If this is impossible, they hope that the local members will make every effort to attend the noon meeting at which time Carl E. Endicott, International President, will be the speaker.

The annual installation of District officers and the Midwinter Training Conference for Local Club officers will be combined with a Reception in honor of International President Carl E. Endicott in what is believed will be the largest inter-club meeting ever held in New England.

The Board of Trustees will hold its first meeting on January 12th at 6 p. m. Plans for the new District year will be formulated. International President Carl E. Endicott will attend both the

Elevated Loop Discussed By Civic League

The regular January monthly meeting of the Civic Improvement League of Precinct 13 was held at the Pierce School, with a good attendance. The guest speakers were Clarence A. Moore, chairman of the Board of Assessors and Charles M. Sawyer of Highland avenue.

The League voted to enter a formal protest against the recommendation of the Joint Board to have all lights of the town turned off two hours each night.

Mr. Moore outlined the duties of the Board of Assessors and told how the assessed valuation of each individual piece of property was arrived at. He said that the practice of selling foreclosed property on the part of the banks for a low figure had resulted in reduced values of adjacent property, but the banks had recently stopped this practice.

Mr. Sawyer in his talk on the transportation problem presented in detail the plan of the proposed traffic loop at the Centre. He said the Elevated was willing to consider any plan upon which a majority of the people of Arlington could agree. He favored the plan submitted because he believed it would benefit the entire town. The plan failed to arouse much enthusiasm, however, and in the open discussion which followed much outspoken criticism was manifested. It was admitted that under this plan the Heights would undoubtedly receive less frequent service than here, and that the Elevated would guarantee nothing in the line of bus service. Mr. Moore, in reply to a question, stated that any curtailment of service which affected ready accessibility to Boston would naturally tend to lower property values. Another disadvantage advanced was the fact that Heights patrons would be forced to transfer at the Centre.

Both speakers were given a rising vote of thanks at the conclusion of the meeting.

A Happy Royal Family

Here is an intimate photo of Princess Ileana of Rumania, with her husband, Archduke Anton of Austria, and their baby, whose title is Archduke Stephan. The baby is a nephew of King Carol of Rumania and the grandson of former King Alfonso of Spain, so he may truly be said to have been born to the royal purple.

Snow and Rain Cause Of Washouts In Arlington— Public Works Department Employees Repairing Damage Today—One Person Injured As Result Of Auto Accident Due To Storm—Another Badly Shaken Up As Express Truck Collides With Local Auto

Following closely upon a snowfall of several inches, the heavy downpour of rain which lasted throughout the day yesterday was the cause of two automobile accidents and considerable damage to streets and property in Arlington.

Reports from several sections of the town indicate that the storm, a queer mixture of snow and rain, has caused washouts and overflows of sewers in many streets. The highway department employees were kept busy making repairs today.

Paul Beauchemin of 19 Cottage avenue, Arlington was injured in one of the auto accidents which caused considerable damage to two automobiles. Beauchemin was operating a sedan owned by the Arlington Motor Mart, of 25 Massachusetts avenue when it was struck by a car owned and operated by Florence Benza, of 92 School street, Arlington. The accident was reported to the local police by Albert Beauchemin of Park Avenue North.

The second accident occurred at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Medford street in Arlington Centre when a truck operated by David Worskopsky, of 10 Almont street, Malden collided with an automobile operated by Mrs. Gertrude E. M. Andrews of 222 Pleasant street, Arlington. She was operating a car owned by Benjamin C. Andrews of the same address. The truck was owned by the L. & W. Express company of 10 Almont street, Malden.

Mrs. Andrews complained of being shaken up and was not certain whether she was injured or not. Both cars were damaged.

ARLINGTON BOY WHO MADE GOOD PLEASED WITH RED SOX JOB

Perhaps the happiest "big kid" in Arlington today is Moe Gottlieb, of 105 Sylvia street—and there's a reason.

From an inconspicuous that boy, he has been promoted trainer of the Boston Red Sox by President Bob Quinn. He starts his new duties this spring. No words could describe his joy over his appointment and sports writers everywhere are of the opinion that the Arlington boy will make good. Referring to Moe and his new job, Jack Maloney writes in the Boston Post:

"Back in the month of March in 1926 there appeared in the Red Sox training camp at New Orleans a smiling dirty faced kid. Working his way out onto the diamond, he greeted the players by name and with a big 'Hello!' It was none other than young Moe Gottlieb, the Sox bat boy who had beaten his way from Boston to New Orleans by freight and other means of transportation so that he could be in his glory once again toting bats.

"That same Moe Gottlieb was named trainer of the Red Sox, succeeding good old 'Two Bits' Bill Bierhalter, trainer since the start of the 1924 season, who had resigned.

"It was again a smiling faced youngster, although natty and neat, instead of dirty faced, who must have felt like kissing President Bob Quinn of the Sox when that official notified Moe that the job was his.

"I'll make good, Mr. Quinn," he told his boss as tears of happiness appeared in the corner of his eyes.

"Ge, it hardly seems possible that I'm finally getting my big start in baseball," he told me a bit later on.

"I can remember the story you wrote that year from New Orleans about me, and you would up by saying that some day I would get ahead in baseball. Well, it begins to look as if you were something."

"Last year at this time, or a little later, Moe was made happy when Bob Quinn told him he was assistant trainer from that time on and would be taken on the spring trip. Old Two Bits was getting old, and the labor connected with handling 40 or 50 athletes in the spring required a lot of work. But there wasn't enough for Moe. He was at it early in the morning and late at night; they couldn't tire him nor ruffle his gloriously fine disposition.

Gets Permit For New Dwelling

A permit was granted by William Gratto, inspector of buildings yesterday, to Christina Erickson of 207 Highland avenue, Arlington to build a one-family house at 63 High Heath road, Arlington. The house is to be built by Sixten Erickson and will cost $3,000.

Arlington High Hockey team had a rather tough time at the Garden in getting going Saturday. There is no reason other than Cambridge was just too good for Arlington.

We had previously stated that Arlington was going to face a poor winter on ice this year, but we sort of switched around when they gave Kievas something. But, it looks like we'll just have to face facts and realize that Arlington High hasn't even a fair team.

Belmont is the class of schoolboy hockey this year. Any team that can lick Melrose deserves credit and a lot of it. It has been many moons since a Melrose team has been scoreless in three periods of hockey.

You know they say you shouldn't blow your own horn, or "that pride comes before a fall" but be it as it may we did pick the winner of the interscholastic series before they even started and we have stuck to the same team in the face of great opposition. We picked Belmont.

You might say that the series isn't over. Well the series is over as far as Belmont is concerned if Ford keeps his health. The only team will be able to beat Belmont will be with Ford out of the game. If he plays the remainder of the games Belmont will make a clean sweep.

We picked Belmont to beat Melrose over a month ago. We picked Belmont to beat Arlington. We picked Arlington to beat Melrose. We are still sticking by those predictions. Arlington will defeat Melrose regardless of how they stack up before the game.

We are still holding our breath on the basket-ball team. If they

Kiwanians To Hear Head Of Finance Board

Ernest Davis, chairman of the Arlington finance committee, will be the guest-speaker at the weekly meeting of the Arlington Kiwanis club in Wyman's English tavern next Thursday noon.

Mr. Davis will speak on "Financial Problems of the Town, the Why's and Wherefore's of the Ten Percent." The finance committee is in the act of receiving the 1933 budgets from several municipal departments and will shortly face the task of checking up on these budgets. Therefore, what the speaker will have to say at the Kiwanians' luncheon is awaiting with interest. He is expected to talk at length also on the ten-percent voluntary contribution which every town employee will make from his salary this year. This topic, especially, has aroused much interest locally and the speaker will throw further light on the matter.

A short session of the old board of directors with the newly-elected board will be held at 11:45 o'clock, previous to the luncheon.

Heights-Baptist C. E. Society Planning Most Active Year

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Arlington Heights Baptist church would like to tell you what they are doing for Christ and the church. They have accomplished many things and throughout this week you can read what they are doing. We started off with a bang the first Sunday in October in which a wonderful Candle Light Installation Service was held. Walter Pingree, president of Sagamore Union installed the officers. At this time the first bulletin was issued which is printed every week, announcing the news of the week. We have been very progressive in our Union Work.

The months of November, December we were awarded the attendance shield for second place in attendance. On the first of this month we went to the North Street Congregational parish in Medford and won the banner for being the most efficient society of 16 in the Union. We also won the shield for first place in attendance. Our Society is also planning many things of interest this year. A thermometer contest for raising revenue, an Evangelical and C. E. World Campaign. Also other things of interest. So at this time we wish to extend a hearty welcome to any young person living in the Heights. A cordial greeting will be given to anyone who comes to our Young People's Society which meets every Sunday at 6 p. m.

Radio City Show Houses Opened With Ceremony

Thousands of Visitors Find Home Comforts To Be Much in Evidence

NEW YORK CITY—The opening of Radio City's two new show houses took place during the past Christmas week and was widely acclaimed by thousands of visitors. It represents the culmination of years of planning by some of America's foremost architects and engineers.

Formally opened to the public on December 27th, Radio City Music Hall, with a capacity of 6,200 is now the largest theatre in the world. The RKO-Roxy motion picture and variety theatre, having 3,500 seats also is imposing in size and in decoration.

Under the direction of the famous showman, Roxy—Samuel L. Rothafel—many innovations are in evidence in the two theatres. It was Roxy's idea to assure the utmost in comfort for patrons and this wish has been carried out to the tiniest detail, even the hard of hearing being provided for, with fifty-two chairs especially equipped with seat phones.

In spite of the luxurious note in evidence throughout the two theatres, decorations and interiors were installed with a practical eye to ward long and continuous use. The chairs in both houses are covered with a mohair fabric known as Velma, whose rich sheen and depth of coloring give the chairs a most luxurious appearance combined with a capacity for long and hard wear.

Each chair has an automatically rising seat and is equipped with a tiny light for reading programs. Direct contact with a chief usher's observation board shows the exact location of vacant chairs.

The art work of Radio City Music Hall has been executed entirely under the direction of Donald Deskey, the celebrated young interior decorator. He was assisted by a corps of American artists, each striving his best to make his work truly representative of the planned conception of Radio City.

Mr. Deskey himself designed the Seam-Loc rug which is a feature of the ladies' powder room. The room is fourteen sided, having side walls and ceiling entirely of glass. Mirrors are mounted on each of the fourteen side walls. These mirrors were ingeniously utilized by Mr. Deskey in designing the rug which is two-toned, the background being a soft Mocha blue and the design being a powder blue. The rug, in its two shapes carries a plain 15-inch bordered border, next comes a feature strip in a lighter shade of blue, four inches wide; inside this feature strip is a series of three-inch dots alternating in a very clever arrangement effecting the design. The center portion of the rug is entirely plain.

The design is so arranged that the various mirrors on the walls pick up and reflect it back and forth making a very interesting as well as unusual effect.

Not only did Mr. Deskey have the cooperation of many noted American artists in carrying out the decoration plan, but some of the foremost furniture, drapery, and interior decoration firms in the country aided, offering all of their facilities to help the success of the project. In the case of the Seam-Loc rug, which was designed by Mr. Deskey for the Powder Room, L. C. Chase and Company, manufacturers, installed the rug in the theatre just nine days after Mr. Deskey placed the order.

This type of cooperation was everywhere in evidence from the laborer who helped break ground for the erection of the theatres to the artists themselves who worked night and day to complete their specific part of the job so that the two theatres would be opened to the public this year.

Mrs. Mattie Reason Tucker, Tent secretary, installed the officers of Laura Hamlin, Tent 52, Reverse, on Monday evening.

Mrs. Tucker is Mother of Tent 52, and will take with her a staff composed largely of members of Tent 22. Mrs. Tucker is listed also for several other installations in the Department to occur the present month.

Greetings were received from old members, Mrs. Delphine H. Allen and her daughter, Mrs. Grace Grant, living at present in Los Angeles, Calif., also from Mrs. Elizabeth D. Roberts, widow of Milton F. Roberts, in whose memory the Roberts Junior High School was named. Mrs. Roberts now resides in Allston.

It is expected Tent 22 will be well represented tomorrow evening to witness the installation as president of the Carolyn R. Lawrence Auxiliary, Mrs. Marion G. Baker, daughter of past commander Miller of Camp 30. Mrs. Baker was recently re-elected to the office of patriotic instructor of Tent 22.

The sick members, Mrs. Thorton and Mrs. Elizabeth Patten, were reported upon by Mrs. Lucy Gargant, chairman of visiting committee. Mrs. Patten, a charter member of the Tent has successfully recovered to join the family in the Season's festivities.

The next meeting of Tent 22, on January 16 will be one of especial interest, as on that date a public installation will be held with Mrs. Mattie R. Tucker, officiating. Mrs. Louise T. Giles, daughter of Mrs. Tucker will be the new president. Refreshments will be served following the ceremonies.

The "Pie Social" held at the last meeting was a very pleasing success. Miss Florence Miller, chairman of entertainment, and her committee wishes to thank all who helped to make this affair both profitable and entertaining.

Among the guests present at the "Social" were Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs and son, parents and brother of a Tent member, Miss Doris Jacobs, Jere Nestor, and Past Commander Miller of the United Spanish War Veterans. These were also among the winners of the home made pies. Refreshments were served during the evening. Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Miller were the pourers.

OLD AUTOS THE RAGE

If in 1929, all the people in the United States had sat in their automobiles there would have been an average of 4.9 persons including 84 the foreign commentator pointed out, women and children. This year, however, the average number per car would be 5.64, according to calculations based on registrations and population in the current Weekly of the Alexander Hamilton Institute. Whereas in 1929 only 307,000 cars in use were more than seven years old, today there are about 2,666,000.

Stratosphere Prober at Play

Turning from higher mathematics and investigations of the stratosphere, Professor Auguste Piccard, world-famed Belgian scientist, seems to be finding much to interest him in the operation of an electric toy, owned by his son, Jacques. The professor, shown in his home at Brussels, is now on his way to the United States, where he may make another ascent into the stratosphere.

Rules Stockholders Still

Liable For Assessments

Levied Against Them

Even though they contributed

70 percent of the par value of their stock when demand was made upon them in 1924, certain holders of the stock of the Industrial Bank and Trust Company are still liable for a 100-percent assessment levied after the closing of the bank in 1931. It was decided in an opinion handed down by the full bench of the Supreme Court.

In December 1924 the Bank

Commissioner notified the bank that it must levy an assessment of 70 per cent on its stockholders

if it wished to continue doing business. Many of the stockholders paid this assessment,

while others permitted their stock that they should not be assessed more than 20 percent at the bank's closing. Inasmuch as they had already paid a 70-percent assessment. The full bench of the Supreme Court, however, decided otherwise, saying:

Finds Levies Not Related

"The shareholders of the trust company voluntarily paid the as-essment of 70 percent voted by the directors under said section

25, or suffered their shares of stock to be sold at public auction and thus the capital was restored. This conduct was designed solely to promote the operation of the trust company. The business was continued for more than six years thereafter.

"The object of that payment far as necessary to pay its debts in liquidation.

"We think that for the reasons already stated, the 70 percent paid on account of the shares of stock to restore impaired capital in 1925 is no defense to the present proceedings to collect 100 percent on such shares under said

section 24."

Rudnick Liable 100 Percent

The high court also holds that two of the stockholders, although bankrupt prior to the closing of the bank, must contribute to this 100 percent assessment. Harold

A. Rudnick in 1926 gave his note to the trust company for 20 shares of stock and turned the stock over as collateral. In 1928 he went into bankruptcy and was discharged in 1929.

The trust company proved its claim against his bankrupt estate.

The court says the trustees in bankruptcy, although he acquired such title as Rudnick may have had, was not obliged to accept the stock if he deemed it inadvisable because of the stock being worthless or subject to claims, and that from the fact the certificate stood in his name, taken in connection with the other facts, Rudnick is liable for the 100 percent assessment.

The same ruling was made in connection with stock held by Ira Shapiro, 100 shares, and since the latter is dead his estate is liable.

Some of the stockholders who will have to contribute are John

J. Curley, 100 shares; Charles

B. Strout, president of the bank,

100 shares; John E. Eaton Jr., 30 shares; Herbert S. Mabey, 50 shares; Eamon and McKnight, attorneys, 13,440 shares.

FAILING FOR FAKE SCHEMES

Never within the recollection of the present generation have as many fake schemes come to light as within the last two years. Almost every day papers in some part of the country are called upon to expose a new scheme. But, as a rule, the expose comes after the faker has gathered in the money and hid himself to other territory, where his game is still unknown. He manages to keep one jump ahead of the denouncers.

This section has come in for its share of schemes and fakers, and its citizens have contributed their share of coin to the schemers. It has never been plain why local citizens will bite at something a home-town citizen couldn't sell them in a hundred years.

Along comes a perfect stranger selling advertising space on a time-card, calendar, cook book, or some other fake scheme. He sells his space readily, in a form of advertising that usually isn't worth the paper it is printed on, pockets the money and is on his way. And then, when the advertiser fails to get results—as he does ninety-nine times out of a hundred—he goes around declaring that “advertising doesn't pay.” The fact of the matter is such schemes are not legitimate advertising, and that is the only kind that ever did or ever will pay.

There is something funny about human nature when it comes to these fake schemes. Nobody can understand why merchants and professional men will “fall for them” when they wouldn't buy a nickel's worth of space if a home-town man was doing the soliciting. But a perfect stranger comes along and they bite—hook, line and sinker. It's a problem no one has so far been able to figure out.—Slaton, Texas, Slatonite.

PENSION RACKET MUST END

The United States spends annually on its war veterans “nearly twice as much as England spent on the dole in the whole eleven years from 1920 through 1931,” Fortune magazine declares in an article in its January issue.

The great $1,000,000,000 annual veteran's appropriation is minutely dissected in the exhaustive study, revealing an astounding story of legalized malingering, exposing methods by which healthy non-combatants are fastened on the taxpayers' payroll, comparing our “second greatest national racket” with European veteran's relief.

“At least $400,000,000 of this billion can be cut without loss to any sufferer from any war,” Fortune declares. “Adding that the Supreme Court has ruled that no pensioner has a vested or legal right to his or her pension, it says “there is thus no legal bar to Congress voting tomorrow all the reductions suggested.”

Possibilities of such a vote, however, are slim indeed, according to Fortune. Picturing the efficient super-lobby built up by the American Legion, the publication states that “the only real hope for a future reduction in veterans' costs is that the Legion is overrated as a political force—and that someone can dig up the statistics to prove it.”

The shower was miscellaneous, and the young bride received many beautiful and useful gifts. Twenty friends of the bride were present.

Keep To The Right

Motor Vehicle Administrators of the United States, the men who know, will describe a series of traffic violations and driving errors responsible for a majority of automobile accidents and advise how they may be avoided. This is number seventeen of the series.

By JAMES W. CARPENTER

(Motor Vehicle Commissioner of Indiana)

DON'T DRIVE ON THE WRONG SIDE OF THE ROAD! Keep to the right, and avoid the kind of accident shown in the picture above. These accidents are serious and often fatal.

Last year, according to statistics tabulated by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, 2,340 persons were killed and 72,470 injured in a total of 82,560 automobile accidents happening because drivers were on the wrong side of the road. These mishaps were avoidable.

Many of these tragedies occur when a driver attempts to cut short a curve by steering over to the left. Others happen when he tries to pass at an intersection, or when he cuts in and out of traffic lanes.

Failure to wait for a clear view ahead before passing a motor vehicle in front also accounts for many accidents of this type.

Expert advice on the problem is given in the Model Municipal Traffic Ordinance drafted by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety. It says:

“Upon all highways of sufficient width, other than one-way highways, a vehicle shall drive the same upon the right half of the highway except when the right half is out of repair and for such reason impassable or when overtaking and passing another vehicle.

“In driving upon the right half of a highway the driver shall drive as closely as practicable to the right hand edge or curb of the highway except when overtaking or passing another vehicle, or when placing a vehicle in position to make a left turn.”

DON'T TAKE CHANCES ON ANY HIGHWAY—KEEP TO THE RIGHT.

Recreational Ind. Taking Place Of Manufacturing

Striking evidence of the benefits derived from the recreational industry by a typical northern New England community is contained in a survey completed at Dartmouth College by A. I. O'Brien at the suggestion of and in cooperation with the New England Council, all-New England development organization, it was announced at Council headquarters here today.

“The results of this survey show graphically the business values of recreational development in New England,” declared Dudley Harmon, Executive Vice-President of the Council, in making public the results of Mr. O'Brien's study.

“The fact that population and standards of living in the typical community studied have risen while both manufacturing and agriculture have dropped off proves conclusively the economic value of the natural recreational assets of New England upon which our New England communities can capitalize. In recognition of this opportunity, the New England Council is conducting its second annual all-New England advertising and publicity campaign to sell New England as a recreational area to the people of the entire country, and to bring in recreational dollars from elsewhere and put them into circulation in these six states.”

In the community chosen for the research study by Mr. O'Brien the population and standards of living have risen conspicuously since 1920, although manufacturing and agriculture, formerly the town's chief sources of livelihood, have both declined steadily since the early years of the century, the survey shows. Industries have decreased in number from 13 to 1908 to seven, and while manufacturing gave employment 10 more than 300 in 1908, in 1928 less than 200 were so employed. Since 1900, sheep and cattle raising have been abandoned, and fruit growing shown a steady decline.

Until 1920, the population of this community also decreased, along with industry and farming, dropping from 1,660 in 1900 to 1,428 in 1920. In 1930, however the population had again risen to 1,600. During the period 1920 to 1930, also, standards of living in the community as indicated by telephones, automobiles, bank deposits, and high school enrollment rose at a faster rate than was shown by the state as a whole. The rate of increase for telephones was 45 per cent higher than for the state; for automobiles registered, 100 per cent higher. Between 1920 and 1925, bank deposits increased more rapidly than in the state as a whole. Enrollment in the high school was two and one half times as great in 1930 as in 1923.

This amazing rise in population and prosperity at the same time as the decline of manufacturing and agriculture was entirely caused by the influx of summer residents and visitors, the study points out. Located in attractive hill country, near a good sized lake, this community presents many desirable features to summer vacationists, but because of its former relative inaccessibility, no great growth in recreational business occurred until the town was reached by a trunk-line state highway and other roads in the vicinity were improved. Since then, cottages, hotels, and restaurants have been built to meet demand, and grocery

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a “Ray” of Sunshine into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway.

Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine Column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

and general stores have doubled in number.

Property valuation in the community studied have risen tremendously through the growth of the recreational industry. After being nearly stationary for twenty years, valuations rose nearly 88 per cent, between 1921 and 1930. The increase was greater in the outlying districts where summer homes are located than in the town proper, a further indication that the rise was caused by recreational development. Additional results of increased recreational business in the community studied are increased public revenues, making possible greater public expenditures for schools and roads, the survey shows.

It is believed that the growth and prosperity that have come to this community through recreational development are typical of scores of other New England towns and villages, and more than justify the Council and varied business interests in spending substantial sums for advertising to attract additional summer residents and visitors.

Legionnaires Of Medford At County Meeting

Over 500 Legionnaires from Middlesex county went to Newton Sunday to attend the County Council meeting, held in the new Memorial Building on Commonwealth avenue at Walnut street. County Commander Thomas P. Conway presided, and many things of interest were brought up for discussion and transaction. Many from Medford attended.

Comrade James Mullen of Bunker Hill Post, chairman of the Speakers' committee for the department of Massachusetts, gave an interesting talk on the activities of the Economy League, as they affect the veteran, and urged all post commanders to make opportunities in their localities for speakers to appear before various business and fraternal organizations, to present the Legion's side of the controversy.

Department Vice Commander Daniel J. Doherty of Woburn, chairman of the Committee on Education and Vocational Training of World War Orphans, spoke on the activities of that committee. He told about the number of children who are receiving the benefits of higher education in the various colleges throughout the state, due to the efforts of the American Legion in having this legislation passed. Any child, whose father died between April 6, 1917 and July 2, 1921, as a result of his war service, is eligible under the provisions of this bill. The invited guests for the afternoon were: Past Dept. Commander of the G. A. R., George Knowles; Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the House of Representatives; James Dempsey, representing Mayor Sinclair Weeks; George Comerai, Inspector General of the National Guard; Fred Fanning, Commander of the 1st Regiment, Camp U. S. W. V.; Senator Arthur Hollis; Representative William Baker and Warren Brambleton; Brigadier General Daniel Needham, Edwin Cooper, National Commander of the Legion of Valor; Reverend John Shade Franklin, Rector of Lincoln Park Baptist Church; Commander William E. Nemo of Worcester County Council; Commander Barry Keenan of Norfolk County Council; Commander David Keefe of Eugene Joseph Daley Post, V. F. W.; Julius B. Ramon, chairman of the Veterans' Council in Newton and Past County Commander John Hooley, Superintendent of Fort Devens Post Office.

After the meeting, supper was served in the new cafeteria, and entertainment was offered the gathering in the form of a number of singing acts. Those performing were Joe Antonelli, in songs; Albert Edwards, assisted at the piano by Mrs. Edwards and Rocco Sardella, assisted at the piano by Mrs. Kent, also giving vocal selections. Carl Womberg, instructor of the Newton Post, gave trumpet solos.

The committee in charge for Newton Post, 48, was: Comrades Irving House, chairman, Daniel Murphy and Fred Avantaggio, with Commander Harold Ames in general charge.

The whist party sponsored by the Medford Catholic Women's club which was held on Friday evening at the Medford Women's clubhouse was one of the largest and most successful parties of the season.

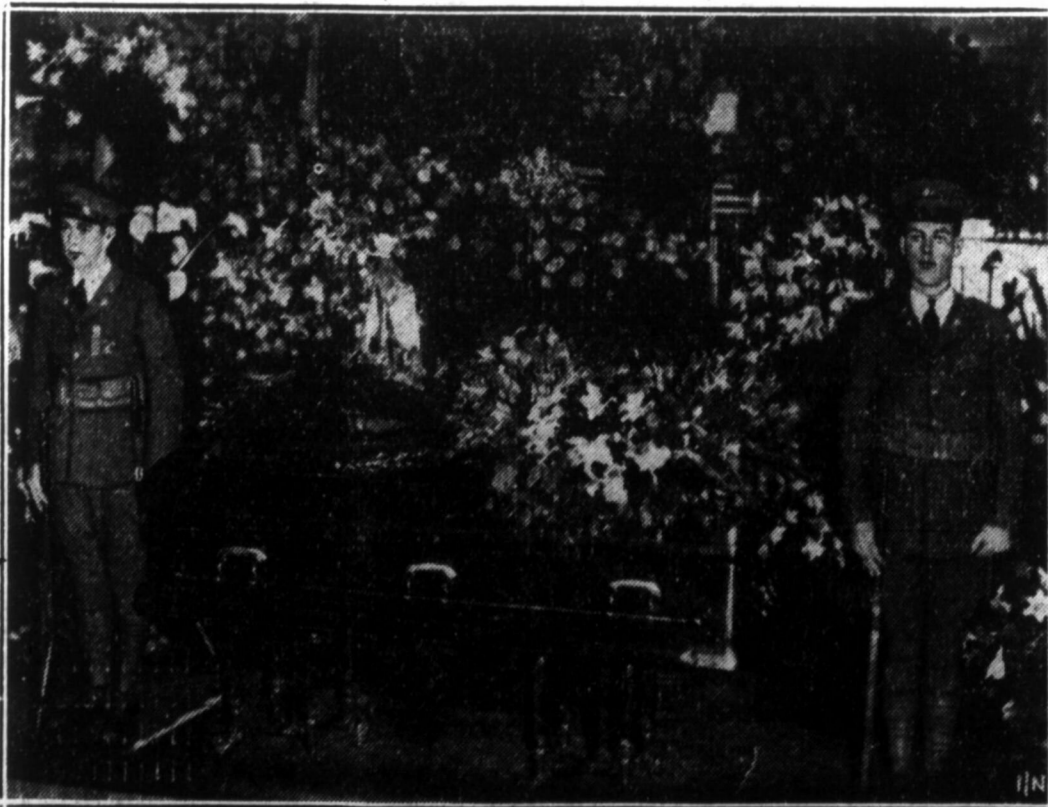

Mrs. John J. Winters, 77 Magoun avenue, was general chairman. Mrs. Winters is on the board of the Philomathean club of Boston.

About 200 were present coming from all parts of suburban Boston, and a large sum for the philanthropies of the club was realized.

Mrs. Marie Weaver was in charge of candy, and Mrs. Winifred Connelly and Mrs. Gertrude Palante of the tickets.

The prizes were many and beautiful and were in charge of Mrs. Ella Cunningham, Mrs. Mary Prescott and Mrs. Birdie Hyland. The other committee members ushered.

Remains of Calvin Coolidge Lying in State

Flanked by a military guard of honor, the flower-bedecked casket containing the remains of former President Calvin Coolidge is shown as it reposed in state at the Jonathan Edwards Congregational Church, Northampton, Mass. Thousands of citizens from all walks of life flocked to the little town to pay their last respects to the memory of the great statesman. Among the mourners was President Herbert Hoover, who was visibly affected by the rites over his predecessor and friend.

Baby Carolyn Downing Has Birthday Party

Baby Carolyn Downing, talented member of the Daddy Sunshine Club, was hostess to a number of her small friends at a party in honor of her seventh birthday at her home, 23 Bonner avenue, Medford, yesterday afternoon. The young lady was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Games, songs and dances were the entertainment for the afternoon, with special numbers by Harriett Stone, Carolyn herself, and Beatrice Simonds.

The house was early decorated in pink and yellow, and the refreshments, favors, candies, flowers and birthday cake, carried out the color scheme. Mrs. Downing, Carolyn's mother, was assisted in serving the refreshments by Mrs. Frederick Hunter of Somerville, Mrs. Dorothy Sawelle of West Medford, Mrs. Russell Baird, and Mrs. Joseph Costello of Medford.

Mrs. Downing led the games, and Miss Marion Butterfield, Carolyn's teacher at the Lincoln school, the guest of honor, entertained the group with story telling.

The guests were the Misses Helen and Betty Price, Florence Conforti, Evelyn Spadaro, Ruth Desmond, Beatrice Simonds, Bernice Oickle, Harriett Stone of Medford, Eleanor Hunter of Somerville and Masters Robert Baird, John and Lawrence Peroni.

Later in the evening, known friends of Carolyn, paid their respects, among them Frederick Hunter of Somerville, Joseph Costello of Medford, Mrs. and Mrs. Edward Adamson of Medford, Mrs. Mary Price, Mrs. Ray Duke and Mrs. Blanche Anderson of Medford.

Medford Kiwanis Members To Hear Pres. Endicott

From all parts of New England Kiwanians are coming to Boston next Friday to honor International President Carl E. Endicott, who will make his first official visitation to New England and assist in the installation of the newly-elected Governor, Burton K. Harris, Pawtucket, R. I., and other district officers at the Boston City Club.

A large group of the members of the Medford Kiwanis club, headed by President Edwin R. Fleming, M. D., will be in attendance.

The day's program will include a mid-winter training school for club officers, starting at 9.45 in the morning, and a luncheon in honor of international President Endicott at noon.

The New England officers also include: Ervin A. Center, past governor; Edward T. Buckingham, Dr. John F. Kennedy, A. Leroy Hodges, Samuel Barnet, Everett W. Ireland, Clarence S. Doane, Stanley H. Patten, William J. Thompson and E. Wesley Enman, lieutenant governors. Next Monday a district secretary and district reasurer will be named.

Since the founding of Kiwanis, 1914, in Detroit, it has grown to 1874 clubs in United States and Canada, with a membership of 83,000 men. For the present year it is endeavoring to have members participate actively in municipal affairs, with a view of reducing governmental costs, while increasing efficiency, and to see that the American educational system shall not suffer from thoughtless curtailments and ruthless handling by those not familiar with its aims and purposes in the light of today's problems.

International President Endicott comes from Huntington, Ind., where he served as president, lieutenant governor and governor of the Indiana district.

"Little 'Flu' In State Says Health Comm.

There is little or no influenza in Massachusetts this winter, Dr. George H. Bigelow, State Commissioner of Public Health, said yesterday in a statement declaring that the "flu" should not be confused with the mild respiratory disease which is in reality only a severe cold or grippe.

"Across the country," he said, "has spread a mild respiratory disease giving fever for two or three days, in some cases confused with food poisoning, and followed by a mild prostration."

He said there has been no increase in this type of disease, but "there is evidence that it has appeared in certain sections of the State."

"Chesterfields taste Better"

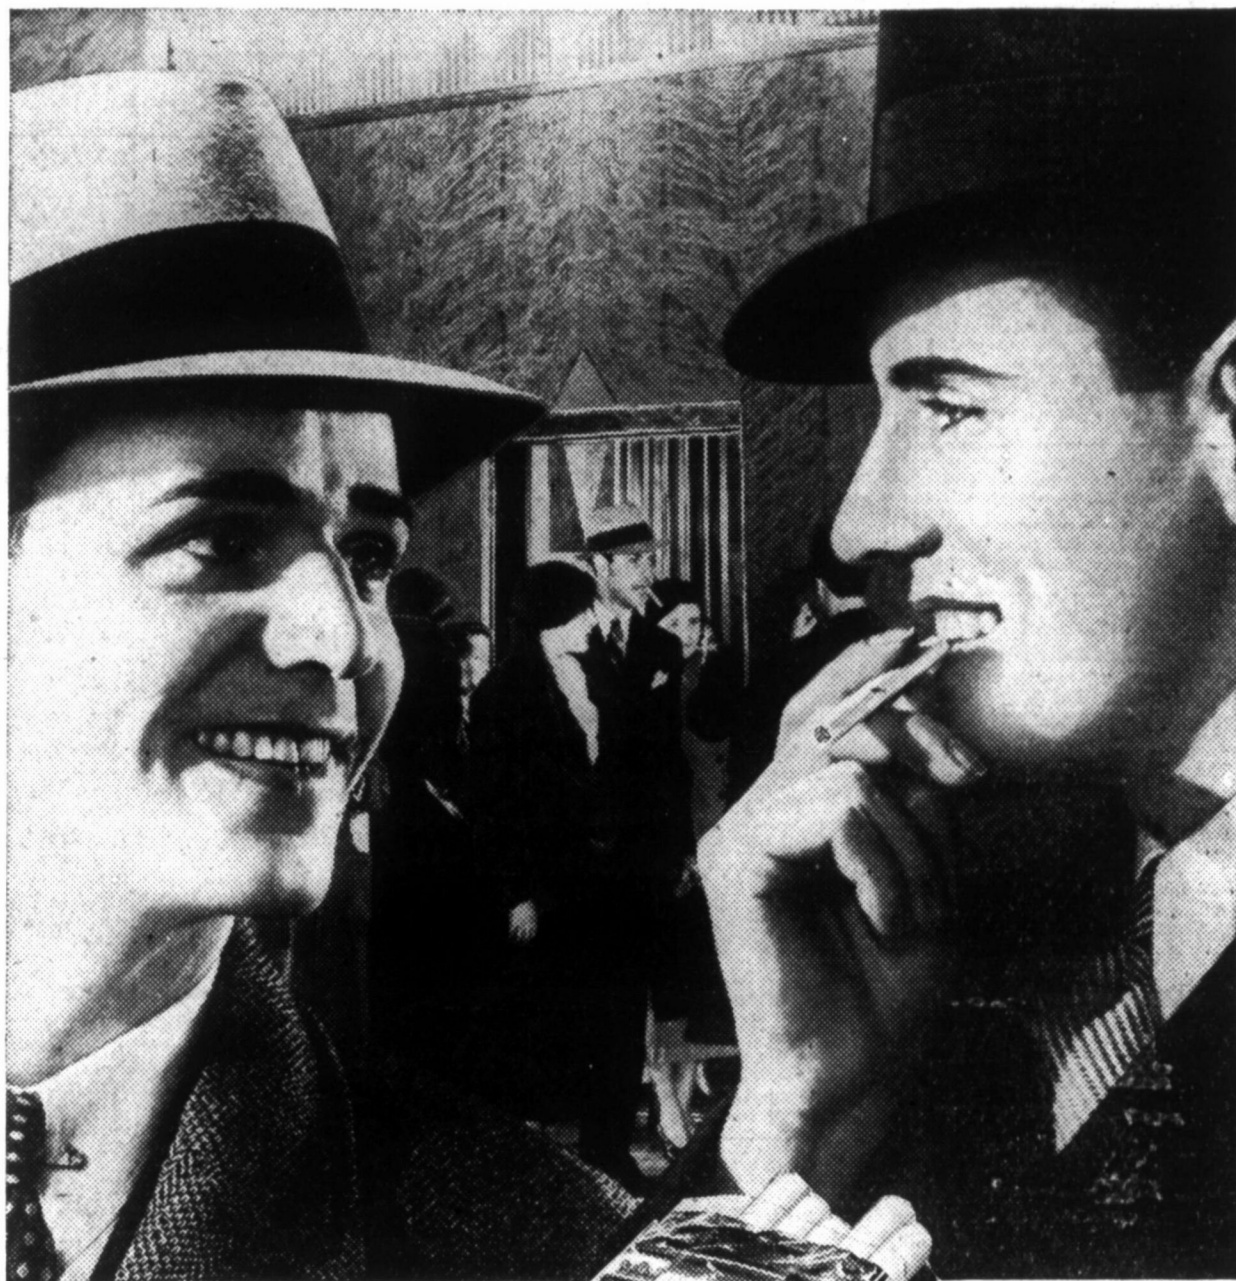

WE HAVE been telling the public for a good many years that Chesterfields taste better. They satisfy!

That wouldn't mean a thing if smokers found out that it wasn't so. Nobody can fool the people very long.

But a great many smokers have smoked Chesterfields for a long time, and they know that they taste right. And so they say to their friends, "If you want a cigarette that really tastes better, try Chesterfields!"

Chesterfields taste better because they are made of mild tobaccos that have been aged for two years. And there is just enough Turkish in them... but not too much.

We are sure that you, too, will enjoy their Mildness and Better Taste.

WHAT IS TECHNOCRACY?

Technocracy is a word coined some years ago by a California engineer to describe a new system and philosophy of government in which our economic affairs should be managed by technicians, that is, the technically competent persons, in the interest of society as a whole, explains Edmund B. Chaffee in the Jan. 4 issue of "The Christian Century," undenominational religious journal.

"In this original group were such well-known men as Charles P. Steinmetz, the electrical wizard, Bassett Jones, electrical engineer, Richard O. Tolman, of the California Institute of Technology, Frederick Lee Ackerman, architect, Thorstein Veblen, an unorthodox economist, and others rating high in the scientific and technical world. These men have been working at their self-imposed task during the past decade or more and have added to their number until now there are several hundred located in all parts of the world. Finding this esoteric name Technocracy at hand, this research group have applied it to themselves and have also used it to designate the body of fact and philosophy which they have built up in their researches," continues Mr. Chaffee in "The Christian Century."

"In other words, Technocracy is both the name of a group and the body of fact and conclusions it is building up."

There are five points in Technocracy that deserve attention, points out Mr. Chaffee in "The Christian Century." These are:

1. Men and machines are regarded as "energy consuming devices" and for that reason the work and accomplishments of men can be measured in simple, common terms.

2. Social changes and accomplishments can be measured in terms of energy.

3. Machines are replacing men so rapidly that a permanent class of unemployed must result. Technocracy asserts that the present system of values and prices is wrong.

4. Technocracy asserts that the present capital set-up, where the capital structure of the world is growing like a snow-ball, drawing more and more of the fruits of labor, is unworkable. The system has neared the breaking point.

5. Technocracy feels that the industrial system has become so complicated that highly trained and exceptionally wise men can manage it.

All men desiring to enlist in the Navy must have clear police records.
